

Vaccinations are recommended and masking is optional at the show. However, if mandated by authorities, we enforce any regulations that may be in place regarding vaccination and masking throughout our venue. In addition, we reserve the right to adjust that policy to respect the requirements of Special Guests appearing at our events. These policies are fluid, and can change between the time a ticket is purchased and the date of the event. “High Risk” individuals are encouraged to abstain from attending Bellingham Comicon due to the inability to practice social distancing. The decision to attend Bellingham Comicon is entirely voluntary and tickets are non-refundable.
